

The Daily Republican.
J. H. HAMMER, J. E. MOSSER.
HAMMER & MOSSER PUBLISHERS.
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEB. 25, 1879.
The United States Senate held an all-night session on Monday night.
It is now thought certain that the President will veto the Chinese Immigration bill.

There is trouble among the Illinois Greenbackers. A Springfield dispatch of yesterday says:
Mr. "Brick" Pomeroy, having called a National Greenback Convention for March 15th prox., to nominate a candidate for President, the National Greenback members of this General Assembly have met and solemnly repudiated "Brick's" scheme. In a series of resolutions adopted by them they declare his call as being unauthorized by the proper authorities, premature, and, finally, that it would result in injury to the cause advocated by the National Greenback Labor party.

Under a supposition, amounting to a statement, that the defunct "Confederate States of America" had money on deposit in England when it collapsed, Mr. Jorgensen, of Virginia, introduced a resolution in Congress on Monday, directing the President to cause investigation to be made, and, if the money was found, that it should be paid to crippled Confederate soldiers and negroes who were compelled to work on fortifications and never received a penny; the payment, however, to be restricted to such as are in destitute circumstances and objects of charity. Mr. Jorgensen is a Republican.

Mrs. MATILDA BOWMAN, wife of Bishop Thomas Bowman, of the M. E. Church, died at Greencastle, Ind., a few days ago. The Bishop is in Italy, holding a Conference.

BARNUM, who is Chairman of the Committee on Temperance of the Connecticut Legislature, favors the use of the bar-room bell-punch. He thinks it is "the only show on earth" to get any benefit from the whisky traffic.

WILLIAM BRADSHAW, a member of a choir of a Baptist church in Philadelphia, has been dismissed because he accepted an engagement to sing in the burlesque "H. M. S. Pinafore," although he was willing never to do it again.

It is taken for granted, since Mr. Tilden's confession of partial imbecility and total submission to the orders of his unscrupulous nephew, that he will be the next Democratic candidate for President. But why it should be so, nobody is able to say. If Tilden were elected, nothing, so far as appears, could prevent Pelton from running the Government directly contrary to his instructions and wishes, without his knowing anything about it.

The financial trouble in which Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, has become involved, grows more serious under investigation. The statement was at first made that the liabilities would not exceed $450,000, but subsequent revelations point to the possibility that they will reach even beyond the enormous sum of $1,000,000. The system of paying compound interest, with no return from property mortgaged, is said to have been the difficulty. Much of the property held by the Catholic Church in Cincinnati, it is believed, will be subject to levy for satisfaction of claims.

THE Louisville Age does not attempt to conceal its disgust in view of Tilden's late revival of his claims. "The real trouble with the Democrats," it says, "is that circumstances seem to be forcing Mr. Tilden upon them, and he has not inspired them with confidence." The writer in the Age has a prejudice against Tilden because he did not bring about the popular demonstrations in New York and other States which were promised in 1876 and 1877. "Here in Kentucky," the Age says, "we had the most positive assurance of this line of proceeding, and the Democrats held a State Convention only to find it flat, stale, and unprofitable, by reason of the falling through of the great New York demonstration, and the general letting down of everything to the tame method of the Electoral Commission." Mr. Tilden has been forgiven much, but there are people who will never forgive him for making the "obivality" of Kentucky ridiculous.

THE annual report of the British army for 1878 shows that it numbered in 1877 an average of 190,502 men; 75,307 of these were stationed in England and Wales, 3,883 in Scotland, and 22,714 in Ireland. The residue of 88,598 was distributed among the British dependencies. A table gives the average strength of the army in its several branches for each year from the beginning of 1861 to the close of 1877. In the second year of the series it reached its maximum of 222,839 men and officers; in 1870, a year of economies, it fell to its minimum of 189,444. Of the rank and file at the commencement of 1878, 18,098 were cavalry, 30,695 artillerymen, 4,373 engineers, and 110,575 infantry. Colonial, army service and hospital corps, numbering among them 8,738 men, made up the rest. The force was offered by 8,668 commissioned officers, and about 12,000 Sergeants. Farmers, trumpeters, drummers and buglers account for the 4,000 required to fulfill the tale of 190,000 soldiers of all ranks.

HOW NOT TO TAKE COLD.
In the course of "Medical Talks" at New York Association Hall, Dr. Beverly Robinson discoursed on the subject of "Colds and Their Consequences." His lecture was practical and highly instructive to a perverse generation, his greatest remedy for "colds and their consequences" being, "Don't allow yourself to take cold."
"If you start to walk home from a down-town office," he said, "and carry your overcoat on your arm because the walking makes you feel warm, you are liable to take cold. Therefore don't do it. If you should take the same walk after eating a hearty dinner your full stomach would be a protection to you, but even then my advice would be, don't take the risk. A person properly clothed may walk in a strong wind for a long time without taking cold; but if he sits in a room where there is a slight draught he may take a severe cold in a very few minutes. Therefore don't sit in a room where there is a draught. Unless you are affected by peculiar nervous conditions you should take a cold sponge-bath in the morning, and not wash yourself in warm water. Plunge-baths in cold water are not recommended, neither is it necessary to apply the sponge-bath all over the body. Occasional Turkish baths are good, but those who have not taken them should be advised by a physician before taking them. Warm mufflers worn about the neck do not protect you against taking cold, but, on the contrary, render you extremely liable to take cold as soon as you take them off. They make the throat tender. Ladies ought to wear warmer flannel underclothing than they now do, if one may judge from the articles one sees hanging in the show windows of the shops. People take cold from inhaling cold air through their mouth often, perhaps, than by any other way. Ladies dress themselves up in heavy furs, go riding in their carriages, and when they get home wonder how they got that cold. It was by talking in the open air, and thus exposing the mucous membranes of the throat. The best protection under such circumstances was to keep the mouth shut. If people must keep their mouths open in a chilly atmosphere they ought to wear a filter. Above all, be careful of your feet in cold, damp weather. Have thick soles on your shoes, and if caught out in the rain which lasts so long as to wet through your shoes despite the thick soles, put on dry stockings as soon as you get home. But in cold, wet, muddy weather don't be caught out without overshoes. Rubbers are unhealthy, unless care is taken to remove them as soon as you get under shelter. They arrest all evaporation through the pores of the leather. Cork soles are a good invention. When you go into the house or your office after being out in the cold, don't go at once and stick yourself by the register, but take off your coat, walk up and down the room a little, and get warm gradually. Warning yourself over a register just before going out in the cold is one of the worst things that you can do. Never take a hot toddy to warm yourself up unless you are at home and don't expect to go out of the house again till the following morning. In short, make some use of your common sense, and thus emulate the lower animals."

A Genuine Aggressive Policy.
Detroit Post (rep.)
Senator Thurman lifted his voice in the Democratic Congressional caucus, the other evening, and shouted for "an aggressive Democratic policy." It has always seemed to us that shooting Republicans, hunting them with shot-guns out of their houses into the swamps at night, breaking up Republican meetings by shooting at the speakers, or compelling them, at the muzzle of the revolver, to divide time, and stuffing ballot-boxes with Democratic tissue-paper ballots is a sufficiently "aggressive" Democratic policy. But perhaps Senator Thurman means some other kind of "aggressiveness," such, for instance, as the boldness of the Michigan Democrats who are not afraid to jump right down the throat of the "National" party.

The name of the King of Burmah who murdered all the royal Princes and their families a short time ago and assumed despotic power is Thee-Haw. He was educated by an English missionary, and it was thought that when he mounted the throne he would reform many abuses, and be a model monarch. He did abolish the custom which compelled all persons, even representatives of European countries, to remove their shoes when entering the royal presence, but his reforms seem to have stopped there, and the next we hear is that two of his brothers, dreading assassination, fled to Calcutta, where they are now pensioners of the British Government. They did not leave very soon, as they would probably have been murdered in the wholesale massacre of which intelligence was received a few days ago. The Burmese are a people of few vices and many virtues, and easily civilized. Burmah presents a fine field for commercial enterprise, and, perhaps, when England concludes her wars in Afghanistan and South Africa, she may step into Burmah, and, after disposing the butcher who now occupies the throne, take the country under her protection. The presence of the King's brothers at Calcutta may lead the way to such an undertaking.

BOGUS CERTIFICATES.
It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, herbs, &c., and peddled up and down the country as a cure for all ailments, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnish its own certificate by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See "Truth" and "Proverbs," is another column.

Too Many People.
From the Leeds Life Review.
It seems like a repetition of a thread-bare story to speak of the multitudinous arrivals of people in Leeds, and hackneyed the expression that they have come to stay. But we are constrained, in fact we are bored, and when passengers alight from over-crowded coaches the average citizen inwardly remarks, "Confound them! I must be on time for meals or wait longer than I am already forced to." We feel like singing the tune of our exchanges that the town is too crowded, and that the people had better stay at home instead of ministering to our discomfort in this unkind manner. To get a chance to eat is our daily worry, and a place to sleep is what taxes the ingenuity of the new arrival. In fact, as Mrs. Partington would say, we have more people now than there is any necessary for.

It really must have looked a little like old times in the House of Representatives last Tuesday, when Gen. Garfield and Joe Blackburn got by the ears. Joe was in the chair in Committee of the whole, when in the course of his remarks Garfield intimated that Blackburn was deciding points of order against the Republicans on purpose to please the Democrats. This made Joe mad, and he left the chair with a bullying air that reminded one of the days when plantation masters were in vogue in Washington, and when the slave-drivers cracked their whips at will about the ears of Northern dough-faces. Garfield was as cool as a polar wave, and, after a proper display of resentment, the man from "the dark and bloody ground" concluded not to eat him. As Joe aspires to be the Speaker of the next Congress, he may as well be told that he must expect criticisms upon his rulings, and that it is beneath the dignity of the position to get angry about it.

Clifford's Febrifuge.—A faithful, infallible cure for all diseases originating in Biliary derangements, caused by the malarial miasmatic countries. No preparation known possesses an equal curative power over this class of diseases at all comparable to Clifford's Febrifuge. It is the ne plus ultra of Ague remedies. Sure and safe in its action, its great power in neutralizing malarial influences is only equaled by its harmless action on the body. No disagreeable after effects from this remedy.

LADIES, DELICATE AND FEEBLE.
Those languid tremulous sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet, that constrain you to chain taking from your system all its former elasticity, driving the blood from your cheeks, that constrain strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain are permanently removed. Will you heed this? See "Truth."

Another Wonderful Invention.
The English papers tell of a new invention of a practical character, which has just been made by E. A. Cowper, the well known English mechanical engineer. It is a real telegraphic writing-machine. The writer, in London, moves his pen, and simultaneously at Brighton another pen is moved as though by a phantom hand, in precisely similar curves and writing. The writer writes in London, the ink marks in Brighton. Those who have seen the machine work, say it is a marvel quite as startling as those of the telephone. The apparatus is shortly to be made public before the Society of Telegraph Engineers. A fac simile of the writing produced by this telegraphic writing machine shows that the words are formed without any lifting of the pen, and perfectly legible.

TELEGRAPHIC MARDI GRAS.
The Celebration in New Orleans.
A HEARTLESS BLOOMINGTONIAN
INFANTICIDE AT NORMAL.
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—The Mardi Gras procession moved according to programme; everything quiet and orderly. The streets along the line of the procession are well filled. The weather is clear and warm.
The procession consisted of twenty large and nine small cars, containing figures and groups representing prominent epochs in the history of the world from four hundred years before the Christian era to the present day, viewed in a comic light—in other words a comic history of the world.
Rex's reception and ball to-night was a brilliant affair. Gen. Sherman and party were among the guests.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Feb. 25.—One of the most heartless wife desertions occurred in this city yesterday. A short time ago a young man named W. H. Powkes, married Miss Ida Savage, the young and beautiful daughter of a wealthy widow lady residing at Clinton, Ill. They came to Bloomington a few days ago to spend part of the honeymoon. Powkes had in his possession a large sum of money, the proceeds of the sale of valuable property. On his arrival in this city, Powkes secured apartments at the Sprague House. The young married couple apparently seemed to be living in perfect bliss, but the young wife's spell of happiness has been rudely broken. Yesterday morning her husband disappeared, leaving her without a dollar to pay her necessary expenses. The matter was reported to the police, who state that he had left for parts unknown, and had been traced as far as Rockford, Ill., but his movements from that point are not known. The young bride returned home to-day heart-broken.

LINCOLN, Ill., Feb. 25.—When the Chicago train arrived here, this morning, a woman, accompanied by a boy about eleven years of age, stepped off and went to the hotel. When the train reached Springfield Conductor Kress noticed a paper box in the seat which the woman vacated at this station. On opening the box it was found to contain a baby apparently about two days old. Word was immediately sent to hold the woman until further orders. It is alleged by the conductor and several passengers that the woman kept the car window raised all the way from Normal, at which station she took the train, and was very much excited, apparently watching her opportunity to pitch the box out. After her arrest this morning a Globe Democrat representative called to ascertain the truth or falsity of the charges against her. She denied seeing the box; said who lived in Mt. Pulaski, had been visiting in Normal about three months, and was on her way home. She gave her name as Mrs. Mattie Stewart. It is alleged here that she has a sister in the millinery business in Normal; that the "kid" belonged to the millinery department, and that she, or some one else, has been employed to dispose of it, and chose this way of performing the contract. The woman remains here in charge of an officer, awaiting the result of the Coroner's jury at Springfield.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The National Workingmen's Assembly of this city has appealed to the President to sign the bill restricting Chinese immigration, as it is the only means to prevent the terrible calamity and utter annihilation of the Chinese from the Pacific coast, which is sure to follow the veto of the bill.
Capt. Tyson, the Arctic navigator, has sued Capt. Howgate, claiming $30,000 damages for the loss of his position in the navy-yard, and for Howgate failing to secure a place for him.
The Potter committee were in secret session to-day. The agent sent to Tallahassee to subpoena Solomon, reports that he is not to be found, and it is thought he has gone to Mexico. The question of presenting the report to Congress upon the evidence adduced came up, and after a long conversation the chairman was asked to submit his views with respect thereto on Friday next, to which day the committee adjourned. Gen. Butler will also present his views on the subject.
The President and Mrs. Hayes gave a reception this evening to the Cabinet and Supreme Court and members of both Houses of Congress, army and navy officers and heads of the Executive Departments who with their ladies and their families were invited to meet members of the diplomatic corps.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25.—The Post and Dispatch special from Jefferson City says the Treasury Investigation Committee reported to the House this morning giving State Treasurer Gates' deficit at $343,000. They say that Colonel Burns, of St. Joseph, secured the election of Gates for the sole purpose of controlling the deposits, which he has done, and in, in fact, the State Treasurer. Burns, it is stated, has made $91,000 since Gates has been in

The Ninth Charity Entertainment at Mason Hall Last Night.

The ninth and last entertainment of the S. E. Club was given last night in Mason Hall, under the management of Mrs. O. B. Gorin and Mr. E. D. Bartholomew, and we believe all who witnessed this really meritorious and amusing performance will agree with us when we say that it was the best entertainment given by the club since its organization, and will bear repetition at any time.

The entertainment commenced by a musical extravaganza entitled "The Bootina and Bellowphone," by Messrs. L. L. Ferriss and E. D. Bartholomew. They rendered popular airs on jewsharps, French harps, flutes, violin and guitar, and piano and flute, displaying a familiarity with these instruments that was a little remarkable. The tumbler duet "Sweet By and By" and "Yankee Doodle," was quite good. Then followed the "Bootina" solo, by Ferriss, ending with the song, "Naughty Boy," piano accompaniment by Bartholomew. Then followed the "Bellowphone," (a contrivance arranged by connecting a tin whistle to a small bellows, by means of a half-inch rubber tube, about 20 inches long) The following airs were rendered, "Baby Mine," "Grandfather's Clock," and "Susanne River." The performers retired from the stage amidst the loudest manifestations of pleasure from the delighted audience.

the Misses Louie and Hattie Jones, piano accompaniment by Miss Ida Jones.

Dennis Barrackman's famed German parody on "Maud Muller" was one of the best numbers on the programme, and won a hearty encore, when "the Dutchman" made an extremely funny speech on Temperance and Woman's Rights.

Miss Flora Race followed in a dramatic recitation, entitled "Mother and Poet," by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, which was listened to with wrapt attention, and elicited very flattering applause. Miss Race possesses a high degree of dramatic power, and her appearance in amateur performances is always a source of much pleasure to the favored audience.

The president of the club, Mr. L. Burrows, then appeared before the curtain and announced that the evening's entertainment would conclude with a two act drama, entitled

"DOWN BY THE SEA."

The following is the full cast of characters:

Almer Raymond, (a city merchant.)	A. H. Imboden.
John Danielson, (a Fifth Avenue fop.)	S. F. Keeling.
John Gale, (a fisherman.)	Capt. Geo. S. Durfee.
September and March Gale, (adopted sons of John Gale.)
Charles Montgomery, E. D. Bartholomew.
Jean Trappeau, (an old French peddler,	Chas. W. Allison.
Kate Raymond, (a city belle.)	Miss Louie Jones.

The part of the coquette "Kitty" was well sustained by Mrs. Porter, who is in the city on a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. W. Ruer. Her conception of the character was almost perfect, and the manner in which she made the hearts of Murch, the Captain, and the invisible Lige, ache was plainly perceptible, and brought forth rounds of applause.

Allison, Imboden, Durfee, Montgomery and Bartholomew, Mrs. Roach and Miss Jones's "dandy" was in their parts, and Ewing's "Daddy" was simply immense.

The entertainment should be repeated, that those who were absent on account of the inclement weather, may witness what is emphatically the richest amateur performance ever given in this city ;

HELD TO BAIL.—The trial of Perry Johnson, which was spoken of in yesterday's issue as being in progress before Justice Curlls as we went to press, attracted quite a crowd. As will be remembered the charge against Perry was that he drew a pistol on a young lady by the name of Wolfe, to enforce his request that the young lady go with him to a dance, which she declined to do, because he was drunk, as she claimed. Several witnesses were examined on both sides and the case was fully ventilated. It was finally submitted without argument, and TABERNACLE.—Owing to the inclement weather there was not a large attendance at the tabernacle last night. In the absence of Dr. Goodwin Capt. Post occupied his time, and was followed by Rev. J. Montgomery and others. Though no large the meeting was a spirited one, those present being full of enthusiasm and zeal. This evening the speakers advertised are Judge John Ricketts and W. C. Outten, Esq.

Removal.

Keeler, the latter, will remove about March 15th to Powers' Block, across the street nearly opposite the present store. The room is to be specially fitted up for hat and furnishing trade. New spring styles of stiff and soft hats now ready at the old stand—18 East Main Street

JAMES CHAPEL.—The revival meeting being held at this church seem to be increasing in interest each night. On Monday night about a dozen were at the altar for prayer. The congregations are large and deeply attentive. Rev. M. Wallace, who is assisting the pastor, seems to be an earnest worker, and his services are highly acceptable to the con-

A CARD.

DECATUR, ILL., Feb. 26, 1879.

In the report of the "Committee" of the result of the fair held last week for the Sisters' Hospital and published in your issue of yesterday, they refer to one table as "not reported;" and upon reading the report a little further on, it appears from the duplicate receipt of Sister Rosa, that the table in question was the only one reported. Will the committee explain?

It would seem that the public have a right to demand a full statement of the receipts and disbursements from each table or other enterprise connected with the fair. That irrepressible committee, or their very efficient treasurer, should make such a showing. Let us have it, in order that any little irregularities may be investigated. "X."

MISS CHARLOTTE THOMPSON.—To-morrow evening Decatur theatre-goers will be afforded one of the rarest treats of the season in the appearance of Miss Charlotte Thompson as "Miss Muldon." Of her appearance in Elmira, N. Y., the Gazette of that city speaks as follows:

This gifted lady appeared last night at the Opera House, to a very large audience, in her renowned character of Miss Muldon. Her support was good, and this fact, in a majority of cases, constitutes the major part of the performance, but last night this most valuable auxiliary only tended to bring out more clearly the prominent points in Miss Thompson's acting, rendering the mirror, so to speak, to reflect back her superb rendition of the guilty, yet more slandred against than sinning wife, who, after years of self-torture and untold suffering, is allowed to make known own. Miss Thompson is true to nature, entirely realistic, so strongly so as to force upon the audience the idea that it is real life and not its imitation they are gazing upon. And, being true to nature is not strange that she has a strong hold upon the people, and is a decided favorite wherever she goes.

FUNERAL OF WILLIE CHAMBERS—Notwithstanding the inclement weather yesterday afternoon there was a large attendance of friends at the Episcopal church, who desired to express their sympathy for the afflicted parents of Willie Chambers, whose funeral took place at the place named. In addition to their presence the friends brought with them many floral offerings, which were most tastefully arranged about the altar and upon the casket. The church service was read in a most impressive manner, by the Rector, Rev. W. H. Moore, who also delivered a very appropriate address. At the conclusion of the services at the church, the funeral cortege proceeded to Greenwood cemetery, with the precious remains, where they were gently laid in their final resting place.

ADMITTED INMATE—This afternoon H. F. Hest, son of Samuel Hest, of Austin Township, was before a jury in Judge Greer's court, for the purpose of inquiring upon the question of his sanity. Upon hearing the testimony in the case the unfor his commitment to the asylum at Jacksonville.

REVIVAL MEETING AT STATT'S CHAPEL.—The revival at Stapp's Chapel continues and is full of interest. Twelve accessions to the church have been made in the past three days, and the church itself is wonderfully quickened. Preaching every night at 7 o'clock.

The first instance on record of a man's making a prisoner of himself, going to the penitentiary unaccompanied by an officer, and delivering his body up to the warden for incarceration, occurred at Joliet last week, in the case of William Schneider, recently sentenced to the penitentiary for one year for malicious mischief. Sheriff Piepenback had such faith in the prisoner's honesty that he wrote him a letter of introduction to Warden McClaughry, gave him his commitment papers and started him off to prison alone. Schneider faithfully delivered himself up to the prison authorities.

U. B. CHURCH.—Notwithstanding the inclement weather of last night quite a large audience attended the revival service at the U. B. church, and the meeting was a deeply interesting one. The pastor, Rev. A. H. Chittenden, preached a stirring discourse, which was followed by a season of earnest prayer. Services will invited to attend.

When you contemplate making a birthday, wedding, or any other present, never make up your mind what you will give until you have seen the elegant line of goods at Curtis & Ewing's jewelry store. They are receiving new goods all the time, and always have such a large assortment from which to make your selection that you are almost sure of finding just what you desire. feb26d21 w

CHURCH of GOD.—The revival services at this church are still in progress, with unabated interest. Last evening several penitents were at the altar for prayer. Preaching again this evening by the pastor, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Ida Burrows is home from a long absence in Chicago and St. Louis.

Francis Murphy is announced for two temperance lectures at Terre Haute, Ind., on the 4th and 5th of March.

George R. Priest, besides being general superintendent of the street railway, is now clerking in the office of Priest's hotel.

Mr. Frank Bloom, the successful competitor of the engine cushions at the late fair, made the REPUBLICAN office a pleasant call last evening.

Theo. A. Gehrmann has recently fitted up Macon Hall in a very tasteful manner, giving the old familiar room a bright and cheerful appearance.

F. M. Leforgee & Co., the photographers, now rejoice in the possession of a handsomely lettered glass door leading to their popular gallery.

Chailey Dempsey and several other ambitious young men of this city have the old and silver fever bad, and are talking strongly of going to Leadville in March.

Miss Ida Bering left last night for New York and Philadelphia, where she will remain among relatives and friends until midsummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Shellabarger and Mrs. Henry Prather will leave one day next week on a two months' tour through the South. They will visit Jacksonville, Pensacola and St. Augustine, Florida, and show the scenery along the St. John's river. If everything is favorable the party will return to St. Louis by water, by way of New Orleans.

light rooms near postoffice block last night. The Italian orchestra was present, and the evening was given up to pleasant conversation, and all participated in "The German," which was not concluded until after 2 a. m.

Mr. Lawrence Barrett, the Great Tragedian, Coming.

Mr. Barrett will appear at the opera house, in this city, on Saturday evening March 8th. He will appear as "Cardinal Inglethorpe," supported by the Olympic stock company of St Louis—the same which so ably supported Miss Fannyavenport on her late visit to this city. It is needless for us to say that Mr. Lawrence Barrett is one of the leading actors in the world, it being nip and tuck between him and Edwin Booth, and in the above mentioned play Barrett stands without a peer. We would advise all who can possibly attend, not to miss this opportunity to see one of the world's greatest actors remember the date, Saturday, March 8.

The True Way to Invigorate.

The true way to invigorate a feeble system is to infuse activity into the operations of the stomach, that wondrous alembic in which the food is transmuted

Stomach Bitters, because it accomplishes this end, is greatly to be preferred to many so called tonics, useful indeed as appetizers, but cooperative no aids to digestion and assimilation. This sterling cordial, while it invigorates the stomach, beneficially stimulates the liver, bowels and kidneys, ensuring the escape through the regular channels of effete and useless matter thrown off by the system, which is thus purified as well as invigorated by it. Its tonic influence is soon made manifest by an increase of vital energy and a more active and regular discharge of excretory physical function, and it has the further effect of rendering the system unassailable by the malarial epidemics.
